VISION, MISSION, GOALS AND CORPORATE VALUES OF NORSU

ision

Negros Oriental State University by 2016 is a dynamic higher education institution of preference for the development of competitive, productive, and world-class human capital.

ission

Negros Oriental State University passionately delivers quality education, fosters cutting edge research, and encourages socially responsive community services through relevant and innovative technologies.

Goals of the Graduate School

As the academic unit of advanced education in Negros Oriental State University, the Graduate School has the following goals:

Facilitate acquisition of a clearer and wider perspective in one's life and work; provide advanced knowledge and information in various individual disciplines, and enhance one's skills and expertise in the field of one's specialization;

Provide training for dynamic and effective leadership in science, technology, government service, business and industry, the various professions, and other fields in response to the agenda for change dictated by the constantly unfolding challenges of modern life;

Encourage independent, intelligent and scientific thinking which is marked by a broad perspective, openness to new ideas and methods, familiarity with the latest technological advances, thoroughness in approaching problems of the human condition, and ability to adapt readily to change and to changing situations;

Stimulate basic and applied research quality, especially in identified priority areas for regional and national development in support of national efforts to evolve a culture of quality, productivity and development in an increasingly global context; and

Foster the development of a sound philosophy of life, marked by a holistic understanding of the intrinsic value of the human individual; deep appreciation for the highest social values; a firm commitment to ethical imperatives; readiness to stand up for justice and peace; sensitivity to the societal and environmental needs of community, country and the world; readiness to grapple intelligently with the new challenges of the 21st century; and resolution to work for the enhancement of the quality of human life.
